Charles S. Tenney Is Highly Honored For Successful Farming

At the Fifteenth Annual Agricultural dinner at the Best Western Hotel in Worcester last Friday evening, Mr. Charles S. Tenney of Northfield Farms was awarded a gold medal "for considerable achievement in dairy farming."

Dr. Arthur W. Gill, State Commissioner of Agriculture, made the award and presented another gold medal, two silver medals and a certificate of merit to four other Massachusetts residents.

In the citation with the award of the gold medal, Dr. Gill called attention to the facts that "Two years ago when the price of milk dropped and dairymen were where were retrenching, Mr. Tenney, with 140 milking cows, built more barns and increased his herd last year when everybody was holding tight. Mr. Tenney's herd still more barns."

"At the present time when many complain of not finding a market for their milk, Mr. Tenney produces from 185 cows 1000 quarts of grade A milk daily and finds people who want it. Even today Mr. Tenney has teams working in the woods getting our timber for the building of large barns."

"Less than 25 years ago Mr. Tenney worked on a farm with no prospects except an education. It was that ambition that changed everything. He married, he rented a farm for two years, he obtained sufficient money to buy a larger farm. The original farm consisted of 80 acres and he was keeping 16 head of cattle and 10 horses. Today the new farm has been increased to 300 acres and includes all under cultivation."

"Mr. Tenney has won 18 silver and five gold medals in the production of his cattle and last year was awarded a silver medal from the state Jersey Breeder's Association for the highest state record in a three-year-old class. He has served his town as superintendent of streets and as selectman and has been the director for the extension service."

Gov. Ely was present by state affairs at Boston from attending the dinner.

At the meeting of the Agricultural Society it was announced that Joseph Zwiynski of Gill was awarded third prize in the State Potato Yield of 6172 bushels per acre. Mr. Charles S. Tenney of Northfield also received a third prize from the Agricultural Society for a good showing of quality Potatoes.

Activities Of The Girls Club

For a longtime an for many weeks the Northfield Girls Club has held regular meetings every Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Gill. The girls have spent a social evening in these events but in addition have been influenced in educational matters. They have contributed to the enjoyment of others and during the pre-holiday season made and filled one hundred stockings with candy which were sent to the children's wards at the Westfield Sanitarium. The candy was contributed (57 lbs.) by Mr. Jasen of Springfield and 16 lbs. by Mr. Beckman of Northfield. The Girls Club has 32 members and others are invited to join.

Will Receive An Article For Public Welfare

Now that the Community Welfare Committee has been fully appointed and organized they have appointed Mr. Joseph Field to act as custodian of supplies and the second floor room in Town Hall has been set aside as a storage room. Mr. Field will care for all things that are donated, including new or used articles such as clothing of all kinds for all ages, shoes, house furniture, anything that you are through with that somebody else might use. So if you have a surplus of gifts of any kind, make send them down to Town Hall and the Committee will be glad to place it where it is needed.

Boys Had Fine Time At Hermon Camp Hall

The boys and girls of the gymnasium classes met at the Mount Hermon and Springfield Gymnasiums and their friends met at Camp Hill. Mount Hermon Friday evening for entertainment given them by the committee in charge of the camp courtesy of Elliott Speer, headmaster of Mount Hermon. The evening was devoted to a dancing picture performance, which was greatly appreciated by the young people. Before the dancing there were brief talks by Dr. Eliot Speer and A. E. 12 others. They spoke on the value of athletics as training for team work and cooperation in other affairs. All emphasized the value of athletics in games and physical exercise. The film shown was very interesting and the boys all reported they had a "great time."

Another Dance This Saturday Eve

In Grange Hall this Saturday evening there will be dancing with music by the Bass Brothers. The dances will be both old fashioned and modern a combination. Admission is extended to all to $1.00 and $1.50.

Zimbalist Comes To Greenfield Music Opportunity

Zimbalist, the world famous violinist comes to Greenfield, Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock, January 19th under the auspices of the Greenfield Women's Club to give a recital at the Greenfield High School Auditorium. This will provide a pleasing opportunity for music lovers to hear this distinguished violinist.

The name of "Zimbalist" has been associated with all that is great in violin playing ever since he made his dramatic entry into American musical life two decades ago. He has been called the beloved of musicians. Certainly to the number of his friends, both within and outside of musical circles, a legend.

Although a Russian by birth Zimbalist has come to be looked upon almost as an American artist. He is an American citizen, makes his winter home in New York and his summer home in Connecticut and has two children born in this country.

Zimbalist was born in Rostov-on-the-Don in 1889. His father was a distinguished grand opera director and at the age of nine young Efrem became first violinist in the opera orchestra. When he was fourteen, the boy entered the Imperial Conservatory in Petrograd, studying under Leopold Aufer and winning the coveted gold medal and Rubinstein scholarship. In 1907 he made his Berlin debut and two months later made his first London appearance. This was followed by a triumphant tour of the music centers of Europe.

His American debut occurred on October 27, 1911, with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. On this occasion Zimbalist gave the first American performance of Glazunoff's A Minor Concerto. He immediately was hailed as a great artist and has ever since held a place among the most distinguished virtuosos.

There is hardly a city in the world in which Zimbalist has not played nor an important symphony orchestra with which he has appeared frequently as soloist.

It is expected that quite a number of Northfield people will attend especially from the faculty of the Seminary and Mount Hermon. Tickets may be had at the Camera Shop in the Mansfield Avenue Block Greenfield or at the door the night of the concert. Tickets are one dollar; Balcony 75 cents; and students tickets 50 cents.

Dr. George Anderson Announces Associate

Dr. Philip H. Wheeler a native of Brattleboro but recently with Lake Erie Hospital at Cleveland Ohio becomes the associate of Dr. George R. Anderson of Brattleboro in the conduct of a surgical and medical practice. Dr. Wheeler is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles G. Wheeler of Chestnut Hill. He was graduated from Brattleboro High School in the class of 1922, winning one of the Austin prizes, and entered Wesleyan University, where he was graduated with honors in biology in 1926. He spent the summers of 1925 and 1926 at the marine biological laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., first as student and then as research assistant. During the summer of 1927 he was employed on mackerel fisheries research by the United States Bureau of Fisheries at Woods Hole.

Following his graduation from the Harvard Medical school in 1930, Dr. Wheeler spent four months as a general intern at the Beverly, Mass., Hospital. For the past two years he has been in surgical service at Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, the teaching hospital of Western Reserve University Medical School, under Dr. Elliot C. Cutler, now Moseley professor of surgery at Harvard. This included service in x-ray, male, female and children's general surgery, orthopedics, gynecology and genito-urinary surgery, with four months as assistant resident surgeon and two months as temporary Fellow in charge of the laboratory of surgical research at Western Reserve. Since leaving Cleveland Dr. Wheeler has spent a month in observation and study at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Shaving's

Is Fortnightly Play

The Fortnightly has chosen "Shaving's" as their play to present on the stage of Town Hall on Friday, February 3rd with a committee in charge consisting of Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Ross Spencer and Mrs. George Kidder, and coached by Mrs. Frank H. Montague.

"Shaving's" is founded on the novel of the same name by Joseph C. Lincoln, one of America's foremost humorists, and village life, with its loves, hates and kindness, its quaint humor and sentiment, is shown in abundance and with accuracy and skill.

Pauline Phelps and Marion Short have contributed many notable success to the American stage but this production is of their best. Many have seen this play produced on the American stage and become enthusiastic about it but it will certainly be interesting to see how well a local cast will be able to render this most excellent production.

Co-operative Bank Appeals To Many

The Greenfield Co-operative Bank of which Mr. Merritt C. Skilton of East Northfield is a Director has placed on sale a new issue of its shares. The bank is doing a commendable work and has increased its business considerably during the past year.

One of the reasons for the success of this bank has been the loyalty of its shareholders. Many new accounts have been opened thru their influence.

Borrowers must be shareholders of the bank and much of their financing has been done in Northfield. Anyone contemplating a mortgage loan for building or making repairs to a home should confer with Mr. Skilton. Mr. Henry S. Franklin is Treasurer of the bank with office at 287 Main Street, Greenfield.

Boy Scout News

Troop 9 held a meeting last Thursday night Jan. 5, 1933. The meeting was in charge of Patrol Leader John Hurley of the Flying Eagles. The boys said he did very well.

The Wolf Patrol got off to a good start by earning 20 points in the contest between patrols 10 points for all members present, 10 points for best behaved patrol.

There was a contest between patrols on Scout questions which came out a tie between all three patrols. The Tigers had two minutes of silence in honor of Calvin Coolidge but the rest of the night they raised the dicens. The Flying Eagles may receive 10 points in the contest it is not sure yet on attendance.

Charles and James Krause passed their tracking test after three attempts. One trouble was they didn't know trail signs—any too well. Joe Kasandi and Hurley laid the trail. They had to find Kasandi which took them about five minutes. He was in a tree above them all the time.

There will be a skating party Wednesday night if skating is good at either Dickinson or the pond in back of the Scout Room.

Any boys 12 years or over who are interested in The Boy Scout movement come to the meetings at No. 9 Schoolhouse every Friday evening at 7:30 P. M. Visitors are also welcome.

Tickets were given out for the movies in Hermon and also there were two minute talks by Joe Kasandi, (Fair) Roman Mankowsky, (Good), Charles Krause (Fair) on what the patrols would like to do this coming year.

Roman Mankowsky will have charge of next week's meeting. He is Patrol Leader of the Wolfs.

Where Our Presidents Have Been Buried

The passing of Calvin Coolidge and his burial at Plymouth among the green clad hills of Vermont and the scenes of his boyhood last Saturday brings to our mind the burial locations of our Presidents.

George Washington rests in the simple tomb on his estate at Mt. Vernon on the Potomac; John Adams, the second President, as well as John Quincy Adams, his son and the sixth President are buried in the Unitarian Church at Quincy Mass.; Thomas Jefferson the third President, buried at Monticello, his Virginia estate; James Madison lies at Montpelier Va. and James Monroe at Richmond Va.; John Tyler is also buried at Richmond.

Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk are buried at Nashville Tenn. The remains of Martin Van Buren lie in the cemetery at Kinderhook N. Y. where he was born and died. William Henry Harrison is buried at North Bend Ohio. Others in the list are Zachary Taylor at Springfield Kentucky; Millard Fillmore at Buffalo N. Y.; Franklin Pierce at Concord N. H.; James Buchanan at Lancaster Pa.; Andrew Johnson at Greenville Tenn.; Rutherford B. Hayes at Fremont Ohio; James A. Garfield at Cleve land, Ohio; Chester A. Arthur at Albany N. Y.; Grover Cleveland at Princeton N. J.; Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis Indiana; William McKinley at Canton Ohio; Warren G. Harding at Marion Ohio. Theodore Roosevelt's grave is at Oyster Bay, Long Island; William Howard Taft, lies buried in Arlington National Cemetery at Washington; Ulysses S. Grant is in the massive tomb at Riverside Drive in New York City; Woodrow Wilson in the National Cathedral of the Episcopal Church at Washington and Abraham Lincoln at Springfield Illinois in the large memorial monument.

Use The Newspapers

A strong argument for newspaper advertising and, its results, recently was sent by the advertising department of the J. C. Penney Company, operators of a national chain of retail stores, to its store managers. The message follows:

Do you want to be certain of reader interest? Then use the newspapers. Many a circular regular receives only a glance, while the local newspaper, with hundreds of general news items, is read thoroughly from first to last page.

Do you want to be recognized as a factor of importance in your community — a real home-town store? If you do, use the newspaper — it undoubtedly is a strong factor in the building of good-will and acceptance by the whole town as a good place to trade.

Charles and James Krause passed their tracking test after three attempts. One trouble was they didn't know trail signs—any too well. Joe Kasandi and Hurley laid the trail. They had to find Kasandi which took them about five minutes. He was in a tree above them all the time.

Where Our Presidents Have Been Buried

The passing of Calvin Coolidge and his burial at Plymouth among the green clad hills of Vermont and the scenes of his boyhood last Saturday brings to my mind the burial locations of our Presidents. George Washington rests in the simple tomb on his estate at Mt. Vernon on the Potomac; John Adams, the second President, as well as John Quincy Adams, his son and the sixth President are buried in the Unitarian Church at Quincy Mass.; Thomas Jefferson the third President, buried at Monticello, his Virginia estate; James Madison lies at Montpelier Va. and James Monroe at Richmond Va.; John Tyler is also buried at Richmond.

Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk are buried at Nashville Tenn. The remains of Martin Van Buren lie in the cemetery at Kinderhook N. Y. where he was born and died.

William Henry Harrison is buried at North Bend Ohio. Others in the list are Zachary Taylor at Springfield Kentucky; Millard Fillmore at Buffalo N. Y.; Franklin Pierce at Concord N. H.; James Buchanan at Lancaster Pa.; Andrew Johnson at Greenville Tenn.; Rutherford B. Hayes at Fremont Ohio; James A. Garfield at Cleveland, Ohio; Chester A. Arthur at Albany N. Y.; Grover Cleveland at Princeton N. J.; Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis Indiana; William McKinley at Canton Ohio; Warren G. Harding at Marion Ohio. Theodore Roosevelt's grave is at Oyster Bay, Long Island.

William Howard Taft, lies buried in Arlington National Cemetery at Washington; Ulysses S. Grant is in the massive tomb at Riverside Drive in New York City; Woodrow Wilson in the National Cathedral of the Episcopal Church at Washington and Abraham Lincoln at Springfield Illinois in the large memorial monument.

Thus they rest in peace while their memory is hallowed by a grateful nation and its people.

Use The Newspapers

A strong argument for newspaper advertising and, its results, recently was sent by the advertising department of the J. C. Penney Company, operators of a national chain of retail stores, to its store managers. The message follows:

Do you want to be certain of reader interest? Then use the newspapers. Many a circular receives only a glance, while the local newspaper, with hundreds of general news items, is read thoroughly from first to last page. Do you want to be recognized as a factor of importance in your community — a real home-town store? If you do, use the newspaper — it undoubtedly is a strong factor in the building of good-will and acceptance by the whole town as a good place to trade.

Probate Court

Judge Francis Nims Thompson transacted routine business at this week's session of probate court. Action taken and decisions made of interest hereabout were as follows: Accounts allowed on estate of West Ceylon Aldrich late of Northfield.

Music Programs At Stoneleigh School

Music lovers will be much interested in an announcement made by Miss Isabel B. Crossler, coprincipal of the Stoneleigh-Prospect Hill School. The announcement concerns a series of musicals which will cover one of the most interesting periods in musical history and will be given in the Coleman wing of the school on alternate Sunday afternoons from the 15th to the close of school in June. The musicals will be open to the public and will be given by Miss Virginia Carolina Ruffin, instructor in piano and the theory of music at Stoneleigh.

Comparatively few residents of Western Massachusetts realize, Miss Crossler said today, "the steady progress made within the last five years in the widening benefits of the Elijah Coleman fund for music and art in Greenfield."

"They will recall, however, that Mr. Coleman, a former resident of Greenfield, left a bequest to be administered by the board of trustees of Prospect Hill and that instruction thus provided for art and music is given in Coleman wing at the Stoneleigh-Prospect Hill school.

"Starting with classes in singing for 14 pupils in 1927, the Coleman fund this year is furnishing instruction for 34 pupils; 14 in drawing, painting and modeling, 10 in singing and 10 in piano and the theory of music. The only restriction on membership in these classes is that each pupil be a worthy young woman resident of Greenfield and unable otherwise to acquire a knowledge of these subjects.

"In order to broaden the interest and usefulness of the Coleman bequest, the present teacher of piano and theory of music, Miss Virginia Carolina Ruffin, will give a musical hour at 4:30 on alternate Sunday afternoons from January 15 to the close of school in June. These musicals will be open to the public and will cover an interesting period in musical history, as follows:

"January 15, great composers of the 16th and 17th centuries; 29, development of secular music to the birth of the opera; February 12, development of keyboard instruments; 26, development of the fugue through J. S. Bach; March 12, development of the sonata through Beethoven; spring vacation; April 9 and 23 and May 7, great composers of the 19th century; May 21, modern composers and contemporary tendencies; June 4, history of orchestra and orchestral instruments.

Something new is to be launched. Beginning Sunday evening January 22 promptly at 7:30 o'clock, a series of fine stories will be told and illustrated by stereopticon slides—one story each evening.

The first picture with its story will be "The Bridge of San Luis Ray."

The people of Northfield generally are invited to these story hours. There will be no admission fee, but a silver offering will be asked to defray the actual expense of getting the picture.

The first meeting will be held in the vestry of the church, January 22, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Alliance meeting with Mrs. C. C. Stearns at her home and Mrs. Max Huber Sr., assisting hostess, Thursday afternoon was well attended. A most interesting time was had, showing up what Fear does to us; making fools of people most of the time. It is something which each person should master when first it manifests itself in his or her life. If not it becomes a mastering fiend. Mothers give children their first fears.

The thought for next Sunday's church worship service will be, "Which Handle of Life are you Using?" This follows the thought of last Sunday's subject, "What are You Getting out of Life?"

The M. E. M. 4-H club met with Mrs. Ernest Schaufus, Friday afternoon with 14 presents. Some of the girls worked on aprons, and holders, and it was decided to make curtains for Miss Hale's room at Powers Institute.

Mrs. Harriett Hale Putnam was brought here for burial Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Putnam was born March 27, 1853, the youngest child of Abraham Knowlton and Esther Putnam Kellogg of New Salem.

Her younger years were spent with her people in Lock's Village, later she attended Powers Institute in Bernardston, living with her sister, the late Mrs. Lucy Day.

She was married to Hartley Hale, Jan. 1, 1877 and resided in Bernardston until Mr. Hale's death in February 1897. A few years later she married Willard Putnam of New Salem and lived at the old Putnam homestead in that town until Mr. Putnam's death in 1912.

Soon after his death she moved to Orange, where she has since lived.

When Mrs. Putnam was in Bernardston, she lived on the place now owned by A. H. Nelson. She leaves five nieces, Mrs. Josie Day Edgar of Bernardston, Mrs. Annie Amer Cuter DeRush of Longmeadow, Miss Marriet Ames of Locks Village, Mrs. Beth Ames Humphreys of Harrison, N. Y. The funeral was held from her late home in Orange Sunday, at 2 p.m. Rev. A. L. Truesdell officiating. The burial was in the Hartley Hale lot in the Center cemetery, Bernardston.
